

The extension to St. Laurence O' Toole's National School, situated in Seville Place, Dublin was centred around the idea of amalgamating the separate boys and girls schools that had operated side by side for over 170 years.

The project included a full restoration and conservation of the protected school buildings, with energy efficiency and ventilation upgrades to provide the best environments for teaching and learning.

Mahon Windows installed our highly insulated ST70 Hi windows and doors to this building. Some of our windows were arched to fit in with the architecture of the historical church building to the rear of the school.

Van Dijk Architects were responsible for the excellent design to restore this of beautiful brick building.
